

SINKING OF U. S. SHIP BY EITEL FREDERICK STARTS RIGID INQUIRY

CONSTRUCTION OF AMERICAN VESSEL, WM. P. FRYE, BY INTERED GERMAN CRUISER, STIRS WASHINGTON.

Case Is Subject For Diplomatic Negotiations to Secure Reparation For Owners — Await Neutrality Board's Decision.

Washington, March 11.—Officials of the United States government today awaited a decision by the neutrality board on problems arising from the destruction of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the German cruiser Eitel Frederick, now at Newport News, before deciding on what action to take. A report was expected today from the board of the port at Norfolk before whom the Frye's master and the crew were to appear to tell their story of the vessel's capture and destruction.

Meanwhile an immediate decision by the board was looked for on the question of how long the German cruiser might remain in port to undergo repairs and what disposition should be made of the more than 300 survivors of the various ships she had captured.

The following statement was issued by the United States government: "The president, when asked regarding the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the German auxiliary cruiser, Prinz Eitel Frederick, said: 'A most searching inquiry will be made and whatever action is taken will be based upon the result of that inquiry.'"

Discussion of the affair in official quarters was taken to foreshadow a strong protest to Germany against the sinking of the American vessel. The statement also indicated that the American ship had been destroyed by a German auxiliary cruiser, and that the United States was the only justification for such action on the part of a belligerent.

The fact that the Prinz Eitel was commandeered by a German naval officer under commission from the German government and the fact that no lives were lost when the Frye was sunk, transferred the case from the realm of criminal proceedings under the federal statute under a charge of piracy and makes it a subject of diplomatic negotiations with the object of gaining reparation for the owners and disclaimers of unfriendliness.

That the United States would ask for damages and explanations of the German government was regarded as certain. Some officials thought the German government would find itself impelled to repudiate the act of the German captain or abandon the position taken by Germany in recent correspondence with the United States on the subject of conditional contraband and foodstuffs. Precedence in international law revealed the circumstances under which neutral governments have acquiesced in the destruction of their vessels in time of war are very few.

The general rule that has been applied in the case of a belligerent war ship must take its prize into port unless there are controlling reasons such as unseaworthiness, lack of a prize crew, or the presence of contraband on board of cargo, which would make certain its condemnation by a prize court. The commander of the belligerent vessel must bring the neutral ship's papers and bring them to a prize court for the entering of a decree.

Await Instructions. New port News, Va., March 11.—The German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Frederick, lay at anchor here today with its deck crew of 100 men, awaiting instructions from the German embassy at Washington as to her next move. There would be no doubt that she would be interned by the program of today's activities by customs men in connection with the raiders' arrival here, was an attendant with the aid of several local men. The ship's crew, who were brought here aboard the German cruiser.

Crew Has Celebration. Early today the band of the Eitel Frederick was playing German national airs in celebration of the birthday of Commander Thierichsen, her captain. All port officials were still barred from her decks. Collector Hamilton prepared to get a detailed statement on the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye from the German captain. Frye came ashore to make a further statement. He said the crew of the Frye would be brought ashore later to be questioned. At 10 o'clock this morning the Eitel had been in Hampton Roads 26 hours and no signs of an intention to move were apparent. Fear British Cruisers. British cruisers were indefinitely reported lurking off the Virginia capes and a boatman who delivered papers to officers of the German cruiser, declared members of her crew had told him the Eitel actually had been chased into American waters by British cruisers. Most of the survivors of the British, French and Russian sunken merchantmen, except those of the first class passengers of the French steamer Floride, still remain aboard the Eitel and a few on shore are in charge of immigration officials. # KENT EIGHT HOUR BILL KILLED AGAIN IN THE ASSEMBLY

Two Hour Debate on Printing Work Measure Ends in Vote of 50 to 41 Today—Engrossed Smith Bill.

Madison, March 11.—The assembly voted today to reconsider the vote by which last week it killed the Kent bill for eight hours a day on all state printing work and after two hours' debate killed it again by voting 50 to 41. The socialist contingent led the fight for the bill and it was opposed by Assemblymen Johnson, Piper and others. Assemblyman Budding introduced a joint resolution to amend the constitution so that the supreme court can only declare unconstitutional by a unanimous vote. It also provides that the court must approve constitutional amendments approved by a majority of its members. Assemblyman Smith's bill to permit cities, towns and villages to provide free lunches for school children was engrossed. Assemblyman Axel Johnson offered a bill today to permit counties in the state to decide the question of woman suffrage. The senate amended the Bray bill appropriating $3,100 for educational exhibit at San Francisco by providing that this amount be taken from the balance of the original $75,000 for San Francisco which is $15,762, and the bill was concurred in. A bill appropriating $31,500 for the rebuilding of the Superior normal school was passed.

FRENCH AND ENGLISH TO BLOCKADE GERMANY

Naval Retaliation Bill Signed by King George.—Text of Measure to Be Known Soon.

London, March 11.—Great Britain's plan to give effect to the naval reprisal measure against Germany as embodied in an order in council, was signed today by King George. The king signed the order during a session of the privy council at Buckingham palace. Details of the plan have not yet been made public, but the order will be gazetted shortly.

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons on March 1 that Great Britain and France, in retaliation for Germany's submarine warfare against British shipping, proposed to stop all trade to and from Germany.

No War Honors. London, March 11.—The decision of the British government to segregate the captured crews of German submarines and perhaps institute criminal proceedings against them for attacks on unarmed merchantmen, has evoked heated comment from Berlin newspapers.

Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent quotes newspapers as saying that the British are acting in blind rage. It is asserted that if the British admit their mistake, they will stop. It cannot fail to result in reprisals. Another German paper says that corresponding counter measures will be taken by Germany.

STATE ENDS DEFENSE IN HARRY THAW CASE

Motion for Dismissal of Indictment Quashed by Court—Insanity Questions Excluded.

New York, March 11.—The state closed its case against Thaw at 12:38 p. m. today. Motions by Mr. Stanchfield to dismiss the indictment against Thaw and by Abraham Levy on behalf of the other defendants, were denied.

Justice Page today sustained an objection by Deputy Attorney General to questions asked by Thaw's counsel to Thaw's sanity. The ruling of the court was interpreted to mean that the question of Thaw's sanity would not be admitted.

RESCUED MAN FROM OVERTURNED BOAT

Englishman Impaled in Forecastle of Ship in Wreck and Is Rescued With Acetylene Gas Blower.

Yarmouth, England, March 11.—Yarmouth sea-faring men believe there is no parallel to the rescue of E. Riches of this place, who was the only man saved from the Hull salvage vessel, Salvor I., after being impaled in the fore-castle of the up-turned wreck.

Riches was in the fore-castle when the vessel rolled over. All the other members of the crew were washed away and drowned. The vessel had turned so quickly, however, that Riches found plenty of air left to him and the boat lifted in his hand he could see light through one of the port holes. He put out his hand and waved it. Every minute or so the boat dipped beneath the water but when she lifted again he repeated his efforts to attract the attention of anyone who might be watching the wreck from shore.

This went on for three hours. "I was dazed and practically gasping for breath," Riches continued. "I then heard tapping outside the hull of the boat, some one spoke through the port hole. The voice said: 'Where shall I cut open the hull?' I indicated this, showing him how to keep clear of the stanchions. It seemed hours before I knew anything else. There were fumes of acetylene gas blown into the vessel, and then someone gripped me by the neck and pulled me out of the dark domain of the hull, where, for a time, death seemed to be my only hope of release. I found afterwards that my rescuer was Mr. McKibbin, a Peterhead blacksmith. McKibbin's attention had been attracted by Riches' hand showing out of the port hole. He fetched from his shop a cylinder of oxygen and another of acetylene. Standing neck deep in the water for several assistants, cut through the double plate of almost two inches thick, ultimately succeeding in reaching through to the fore-castle.

BRITISH GAIN POSITION ON WEST FRONT

CAPTURE NEUVE CHAPPELLE AND THREATEN GERMAN TRENCHES NEAR LA BASSE.

NEW MOVE IN POLAND

Von Hindenburg Concentrates Large Force in North Poland, Evidently Aiming to Attack Przasnysz.

London, March 11.—Under cover of fire of heavy Russian artillery, British troops have captured Neuve Chapelle, three and one-half miles north of La Basse. The success, including the taking of 1,000 prisoners and several machine guns, makes it the most considerable advance reported from the north of France for several months past. It made in force it is strategically of great importance as the position commands the road between La Basse and Lille. Furthermore, it makes the German hold on La Basse insecure and gives a base for operations for the strengthening of the allied lines in front of Lille.

An Unexpected Move. The movement was unexpected as lately the principal activity reported from the British front has been in the direction of the other end of the other end of the line near Ypres. The furthest point gained by General Horace L. Smith-Dorrien last October when with one army corps in an effort to gain Fournes on the border of La Basse, he forced his way as far as duers, two miles to the northeast of Neuve Chapelle, but after desperate fighting against tremendous odds, was forced to retire.

Announcement follows: "The fourth and the Indian corps advanced yesterday on a front of 4,000 yards for roughly three-quarters of a mile and captured all the intervening hostile positions, including trenches. The corps on the right and left of these two corps also were engaged. More than seven hundred prisoners were taken.

"British aircraft yesterday were active and succeeded in destroying railroad junctions at Courtil and Monin."

New Strike in Poland. Petrograd, March 11.—A regrouping of the German forces in Northern Poland and commencement of a new attempt upon Przasnysz has been noted by the general staff of the Russian army.

This movement is being made in considerably greater strength than was the recent operation in the direction of Przasnysz, which terminated not only a local defeat for the Germans but in the general retirement of all the German forces in the direction of their own frontier.

TURKISH OFFICIALS FLEE THE CAPITAL

ASSEMBLY IN FAVOR OF BILL TO AMEND BAKER SALOON LAW

Stemper Bill Legalizing 1,000 Wisconsin Saloons Carries in House Last Night After Bitter Contest.

Madison, Wis., March 11.—By a vote of 49 to 44 the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature last night sent to engrossment the Stemper bill, amending the Baker saloon law so as to legalize 200 saloons in Milwaukee and nearly 1,000 in the entire state. Every inch of the proceeding was stubbornly fought. The bill was on the calendar for death, but a substitute by Assemblyman Hoffman pending that would legalize all saloons in operation June 1, 1913, Assemblymen Frederick, Monroe, County, Fretney of Iowa county and Julius Hanson of Shawano opposed the bill. Its passage was favored by Assemblymen Norman and Hixson of Milwaukee, Kubaska of Lincoln county and Kurt-enacker of La Crosse county.

Gets Reconsideration. Assemblyman Frederick argued that there were too many saloons at the present time. Assemblyman Hoffman urged that it would legalize 200 saloons involving property interests of over $1,000,000. He also claimed that this condition would not prevail in the future. The bill was passed by a vote of 49 to 44. The bill was passed by a vote of 49 to 44.

Following is the result of the roll call: For the amendment to legalize the saloons: Assemblymen Arneemann, Aulenbacher, Berninger, Bell, Budlong, Donnelly, Duffy, Everett, Feldhaus, Franz, Frech, Gampfer, Grel, H. S. Hanson, Hax, Heding, Heim, Herzog, Hoffman, Kent, Kille, Krems, Kubaska, Kubaski, Kurtenacker, Laing, Lentz, Metcalfe, Minley, Moran, Murphy, Nelson, Norman, O'Brien, Pickart, Pipher, Ploeger, Poole, Prescott, Reinhardt, Schindler, Schroeder, Smith, Zimmer, Tews, Vint, Waldron, Weber, Zinn—49.

Other Liqueur Bills. Against the amendment, Assemblymen Ballard, Beckwith, Bradley, Byse, Caldwell, Cretney, Crosby, Dickie, Dixon, Doble, Edwards, Engbreton, Falk, Frederick, Gruenwald, Hager, Hambrecht, Karl, Hanson, Julius, Hanson, Harrison, Hixson, Hixson, Jensen, Johnson, Kleinstelber, Labret, Laurien, McDowan, Melain, Morgan, Mortensen, Neumeister, Nye, Ostie, Spoor, Stewart, Van De Zande, Vincent, Weller, Weinberg, Winegar, Woodward and Whitte—44.

New York, March 11.—A three-masted schooner was reported to be ashore and in distress today off the New Jersey coast, opposite Little Egg harbor south of Sandy Hook. Life-savers at the station put out for the scene. The identity of the schooner could not be ascertained from the shore.

FOUR MILLION LEFT OUT OF STATE LEVY

SECRETARY OF STATE BIGGER MAN THAN LEGISLATURE OR EVEN THE GOVERNOR.

CLEVER POLITICS SEEN

State Tax Remitted in 1914 to Cut Down State Discussion of High Taxes.

Madison, March 11.—That $4,334,384 appropriated by the state legislature of 1914 was purposely left out of the state tax levy for 1914 by agreement between politicians to call a halt on the cry of increased taxation at the expense of any incoming administration, was the startling fact disclosed at the hearings of the joint legislative investigation committee when they heard the testimony of State Treasurer Johnson and Secretary of State Donald.

The fact that a shortage of some $2,000,000 on June 30th next also was disclosed and all because the last administration of progressives played politics for their own personal ends. In fact if a demand should be made upon the state treasury for all the money appropriated it could not be met, and even then there is no provision for raising funds until the next year. The state treasury is now in a position to pay for any appropriations that may be made by the present legislature. It was clearly an attempt to place the incoming administration in a serious financial hole, compel them to face a deficit in the treasury and also to be charged with increasing taxation instead of reducing them as they have pledged themselves to do. It means one thing at once. That further appropriations will not be made by the present legislature will be cut down to a minimum and that as far as possible appropriations made two years ago and not yet used will be rescinded and the money which by the way is not in the state treasury, will be turned back into the general fund.

The information, which came from State Treasurer Johnson and Secretary of State Donald, struck the committee like a bombshell. It seems clear that the present legislature will not be able to make any further appropriations until figures are produced to show exactly what the situation is.

While neither Secretary Donald nor Treasurer Johnson would admit it, the information was a blow to the committee that the omissions were made in order to alleviate public feeling on high taxes. From the testimony it looks as though the secretary of state were the biggest man in the state, bigger even than the legislature. The latter can appropriate all the money it wishes for certain purposes, but the secretary of state can later say this and that appropriation is not needed and it is left out of the tax levy.

From this it would seem that the secretary of state is a bigger man than the governor. The latter has to formally veto any appropriation, but it is out of the way. All the secretary of state appears to have to do is to say this appropriation is not needed, so leave it out of the levy. At least the inference was to be drawn from the testimony.

$4,000,000 Held Up. According to testimony taken before the investigation committee on Tuesday and Wednesday following 1913 appropriations, or part thereof, were not included in the 1914 tax levy:

Highway commission	$ 600,000
University buildings	300,000
Stout Institute	300,000
Normal schools	300,000
Board of control	300,000
Total	$2,100,000

The amounts remitted from all other sources, which had been provided for the 1913 and other legislatures, total $2,138,896, making a grand total not over $4,238,896 less than the $4,334,384, but which was appropriated in 1913.

The situation in the state treasury is given by State Treasurer Johnson as follows:

There was a treasury balance on March 9, 1915, of $4,433,657.32. The balance in the treasury on March 9, 1914, was $8,304,157.15, the 1915 balance being $720,495.43 less than that of 1914. The balance of the general fund on Feb. 1, 1915, before the tax levy came in, was $727,801.39. This will then show that with the same income and with the same expenses as last year there will be but a small balance in the treasury on Feb. 1, 1916.

Thus, it is contended, goes to show that the large appropriations for buildings, etc., made by the 1913 legislature could not be met unless they were included in the 1914 tax levy.

Thoughts for Manufacturers

Your consumers—the people—read newspapers.

The retailers—your distributors—read the newspapers.

When the retailers want to advertise they use the newspapers.

If you asked them where you could advertise, they would answer—the newspapers.

Newspaper advertising not only creates specific consumer demand for goods, but it inspires the retailer to push the goods.

It links the push and the pull.

National manufacturers in search of specific information are invited to address the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York.

ST. LOUIS MANAGERS FACING A HARD JOB DEVELOPING PLAYERS

Rickey, of the Browns, Must Have a First and Third Baseman to Make a Showing—Hope to Escape Collar.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] St. Louis, March 11.—With hopes of developing a first baseman and third sacker from among the spring lineup of bushers, manager Branch Rickey of the Browns took his squad of thirty-one men to Houston, Texas to begin the spring training. Rickey is confident that his team will make a better showing in the 1915 campaign than was made last year. His reason is developed from a frank line of philosophy.

"Earl Hamilton and Walter Leverette can't be worse than they were going to be any worse than last year. Now, with the holes plugged, and the two pitchers back in reasonable form, the Browns are certain to be an improved team. The other teams of the circuit have no such prospects for improvement to back predictions of improvement. Therefore, now can the Browns fall to their better advantage in their company?"

And under the fire of "if" and "presumptions," nor but echo could answer, and echo only murmured an answer: "How indeed?"

A Federal Again. The leap of Jimmy "Pepper" Austin, quondam Sunday manager of the Browns, to the Pittsburgs, left the gap in the corner. Rickey admits this is a serious defect in the plan. His determination to transform Jack Leary into a catcher will leave another void at first. Of course, there's Sam Agnew, a veteran of counted major league combats, still dependable behind the bat—but Rickey is beginning to believe Sam's slightly is only good for a short time more. The catcher's fingers, even now belie his winter vocation.

Agnew lets it be understood that he and Bert Shotton ran a farm at Hiram, Mo., during the winter. But those who have gazed on his curly digits are suspicious, Sam, it is rumored had been teaching sign language in a German mute institution. At any rate there is basis for the rumor in the condition of Sam's fingers.

Fair on Hunters. George Baumgardner, one of last year's regulars, is expected to do regular duty again on the mound, aided by the left-handers Hamilton and Leverenz and Grover Lauderbach acquired from Louisville. Pitcher Perry of Atlanta also is looked upon as a good prospect for hill work and outfielder Lee, who comes to St. Louis from the Athletics is expected to be dependable in one of the outer works.

The Browns will arrive here after their training in time for a spring series with the Cardinals to begin on March 27.

Cards Weakened. Because of the showing last year was better than any they had made in recent years, perhaps just because the Federal raids shot great gaps in their organization, the Cardinals are not as optimistic as the Browns. With Leopold Hoernsbacher, autoist, leaper and outfielder absent from the lineup the Cards, expected to scurry busily during the training trip to develop a substitute.

Hoernsbacher, who as Les Magee officiated everywhere except behind the bat and in the box has achieved considerable critics from the scribes available to organize baseball but there is no denying his value to the Cardinals in the 1914 season. Ham Hyatt of Pittsburgh will be tried in Magee's pasture but is not expected to make good enough to become steady. Other blows to the Cardinals were the loss of Pitcher Peritt and of catcher Ivy Wingo, who though not a Fed any more is out of the league. Cincinnati will hold Wingo next year. Huggins will take 25 men south. He says he needs only a pitcher and a hard-hitting outfielder.

Feds in Havana. The St. Louis Feds are getting their unkninking in Havana after a little preliminary boiling-out at Key West, Fla. Manager Fielder Jones, a stern advocate of the pruning blade, has reduced his squad to twenty players and alleged players, five of them pitchers. The curvsmen, Eddie Plank, Bob Groom, Dave Davidson, Orie Canada, Edger Willett and Pitcher Marshall, all of the Phillies with their boss and a week's training at Key West before the others of the squad under Secretary Willis Johnson arrived at Key West. Armando Marsans, the Cuban outfielder, claimed by the Feds, has arranged a series of games with the local Havana club and probably will appear in two box scores every day. The Federal court which has enjoined him from playing lacks jurisdiction in Cuba.

Indications are that the Feds infield will greet the season's opening in this manner: 1b, Horton, 2b, Bridwell, 3b, Deel, ss, Ernie Johnson, if Marsans is allowed to play he probably will draw one of the outer acres. Ward Miller and Johnny Tobin are slated for the other two outfield jobs.

Vincent Campbell, who came back for a season and played with the St. Louis Browns last year, has again retired. He was one of the real stars in the outlaw league yet he says they could not offer him enough money this year to interest him.

LAWRENCE TO DECIDE GAMES ON SATURDAY

Janesville, Evansville and Beloit Are Three Teams in This Section Say Tourney Officials.

By Monday or Tuesday of next week, every team of importance among the high schools of Wisconsin, will know definitely whether they are to play elimination games prior to the state tourney or not.

Next Saturday morning the committee on eliminations, composed of Dr. C. R. Atkinson, Dr. M. L. Spencer and Coach Ellis Chapman of the college, and Professor John Callahan of Menasha, will meet to make final arrangements for the games that are to decide definitely the entries into the state tournament.

Lawrence officials are satisfied now that Janesville, Evansville and Beloit are the only three schools left in the southeastern section, two of the three to be selected to go to Appleton. Just how the elimination committee will arrange games for these three teams is not known.

Janesville with an Evansville man as official, Beloit won from Evansville at Beloit with a Beloit official. These games are both ruled out, it is claimed, Beloit has played but one game in this section, that contest being with Evansville. On the other hand, Janesville has won six games with Wisconsin schools, including Waukesha, Stoughton, Jefferson, Lake Mills, Monroe and Wisconsin high schools, and losing only to Evansville, gives Janesville the shade on Beloit, through their getting a better grasp on the other teams in this section.

Should Janesville trim Elkhorn Friday night, which contest does not lie in doubt, a clear claim as one of the teams from this district can be realized. Lawrence's view on the hope in this section is as follows:

"In the southeastern section Burlington was defeated by Kenosha 26 to 14 and will probably be in this way eliminated, leaving the big fight between Evansville, Janesville and Beloit. The Janesville players, in spite of a faculty regulation against "wet" towels, are to be permitted to enter the tournament if they can obtain a place."

The first Y. M. C. A. basketball team trimmed the second bunch last evening in the association gymnasium by a score of 54 to 19. The first half went more even, the second string men forcing all the way and holding their superiors to a 16 to 11 count. Reno Koch played his first game for the Y team this year, and scored 9 goals, with Captain John Brown of the first team, playing at the other forward, counted ten goals. The score follows:

First Quint: Capt. John Brown and R. Koch, forwards; Willis McDonald, center; L. French and F. Booth, guards.

Seconds: Lanphere, Peterson and L. Shattuck, forwards; Cannon, center; F. Shuler and Lowry, guards. Field Goals—Brown 10, Koch 9, McDonald 5, French 2, Booth 1, Shattuck 3, Lanphere 2, Shuler 2, Lowry 2. Free Throws—Shuler 1.

BOTH BOXERS READY FOR TITLE MEETING

Ex-Champion Ritchie Is Fully Confident That He Will Take Welsh's Measure Tomorrow Night.

New York, March 11.—Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion, is fully confident that he will regain the title by a knockout tonight when he meets Freddie Welsh in a ten round battle at Madison Square Garden. Ritchie's only hope to gain the crown is by a knockout blow or by a foul, but the last and the first, for the matter, are given little consideration among boxing experts.

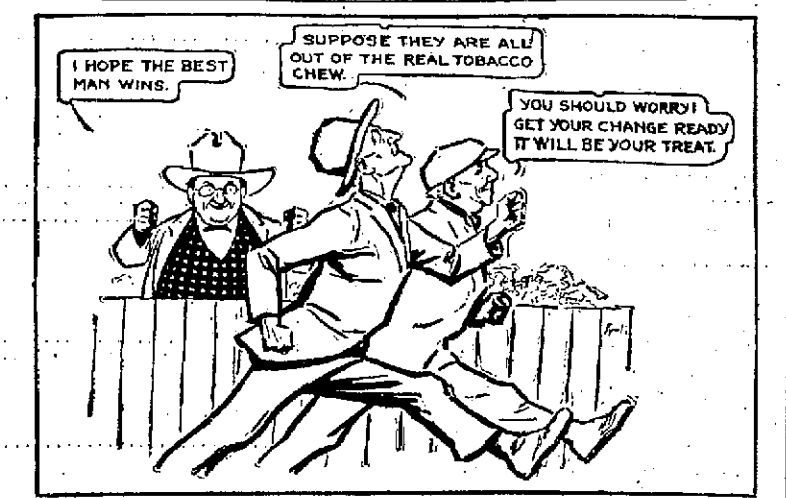

Ritchie believes he is going to stop the British champion. He declares he will go after Welsh from the start and never stop laying away at him and by forcing the pace so fast, he hopes to tire Welsh and open a chance for his mighty wallop. Welsh is the most marvelous defensive fighter and it is doubted by Gotham ring experts if Ritchie can get to Welsh in ten rounds. Both fighters are down to weight and will weigh in at 135 pounds at two o'clock in the afternoon.

The recently formed Atlantic Coast Bowling association will hold its first championship tournament in Boston, in May. In addition to the regular tenpin series, candlepin and duckpin tournaments will be rolled.

STRENGTH NOT ALWAYS A FACTOR IN SUCCESS AS BASEBALL PLAYER

Fred Walker, famous as the most eccentric of modern pitchers, since the passing of Walter, is out of a job. He frequently is, but this time he knocked himself out of it through over-confidence. When he signed with the Pittsburgh Federals he was offered a two-year contract, but said he'd rather take a one-year document, so that he could be in position to claim a raise on the second season. As he won four games and lost six during the season and batted .111, he wasn't offered any contract of any kind. Walker pitched a few minutes—for the Reds, relieving "Rube" Berton on the memorable afternoon when "Rube" debuted in fast company. He has also pitched a few minutes for most of the other big league teams, and is the famous "Mysterious Mink" of the Coast league, where he twirled one summer with a mask concealing his good-looking features. The fact that sheer physical strength doesn't make anyone a good ball-player is conclusively proven in the case of Walker. He is one of the strongest men in the world—an athlete of almost impossible muscular development—and yet can't hit and seldom succeeds as a pitcher.

GOING SOME!—the way the news is spreading about "Right-Cut," the Real Tobacco Chew.

Seems like every man who uses it is telling his friends about the small chew that really satisfies.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit two much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

When he signed with the Pittsburgh Federals he was offered a two-year contract, but said he'd rather take a one-year document, so that he could be in position to claim a raise on the second season. As he won four games and lost six during the season and batted .111, he wasn't offered any contract of any kind. Walker pitched a few minutes—for the Reds, relieving "Rube" Berton on the memorable afternoon when "Rube" debuted in fast company. He has also pitched a few minutes for most of the other big league teams, and is the famous "Mysterious Mink" of the Coast league, where he twirled one summer with a mask concealing his good-looking features. The fact that sheer physical strength doesn't make anyone a good ball-player is conclusively proven in the case of Walker. He is one of the strongest men in the world—an athlete of almost impossible muscular development—and yet can't hit and seldom succeeds as a pitcher.

It's Here Now

The Sensation of All Light Sixes--1915 Model

PAIGE SIX-46

7 PASSENGER

In this picture you are looking at the only seven passenger six-cylinder car in the world which sells for less than $1400. It is our belief that this car fixes—at $1395—the highest price you should pay for a six-cylinder car of supreme value.

In this announcement we cannot begin to describe the car. You must come to see it in order to appreciate what a really great achievement has been accomplished by the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company. Bring along any engineer, any automobile expert, that you know. Let him go over the car carefully and give you his opinion. Beyond any question of doubt he will confirm our statement that this is an epoch making car—a car that will establish a new understanding of "value" in the six field.

A Big Car

Note that this is a big car—124 inches of wheelbase—meaning luxurious, roomy comfort for every passenger. This is not a "make-shift" seven-passenger automobile. It seats seven full-grown persons without crowding and without cramping. Two auxiliary seats fold into the back of the front seat when not in use. The body design is a masterpiece in coach building—the last word in grace and distinction.

Bosch Ignition

Everyone concedes that Bosch is the standard ignition of the world. You will notice that the Paige "Six-46" is equipped with this world-famous system and you will then begin to understand the meaning of Paige "super-value."

Alive With Power

The 3½x5½" Paige-Continental Motor takes this car fairly flying over the hills. It is alive with power—responsive power that obeys instantly the slightest movement of the throttle. Sixty miles an hour is play for the Paige "Six" and it slackens its paces to two miles when you want it.

Lubrication

Efficient lubrication is absolutely essential to the life of any motor car. The Paige "Six" is lubricated by a plunger pump which forces a steady stream of oil to all main bearings, pistons and cylinder walls are lubricated by splash from constant level oil pan.

Cork Insert Clutch

This is the most expensive clutch construction used in the motor car industry, but it is well worth the many extra thousands of dollars that the Paige company is obliged to pay. Investigate for yourself the number of high priced cars using this clutch where cost is not an item.

Gray & Davis Equipment

Practically all reputable automobile engineers are unanimous in agreeing that the Gray & Davis separate unit electric starting and lighting system is the most perfect system on the market today. It has been used on the Paige for two years with wonderful results, and of course is retained on the new Paige "Six-46." It is the newest, lightest type, and turns over the motor faster than any other cranking system. The 90-hour Willard Storage Battery is used.

Paige Cantilever Spring Suspension

The action of these cantilever rear springs is little less than miraculous. The sensation of riding in a Paige "Six" is only to be compared with the easy undulating motion of a staunch power boat. Cantilever Springs make the roughest roads smooth boulevards. And you cannot know how a car should ride until you have had a demonstration in the new Paige "Six."

We have mentioned only a few points of supremacy found in this magnificent car. There are many, but when you stop to weigh them all and think of them all together, there is but one answer—a great "Six," a truly triumphant "Six."

BELGIUM RELIEF.

Here's a statement recently sent out by the Commission for Relief in Belgium which speaks well for American liberality.

Shipments of clothing donated during the last few months have been so large and generous that an adequate supply for months to come has accumulated, according to a cable dispatch received today from the London office of the Commission for Relief in Belgium. Space in the steamers of the commission is needed for the transportation of food, and accordingly the commission appeals to all communities and individuals to focus their efforts upon supplying food, of which there is a serious and growing shortage.

While the supply of clothing is adequate, there is an ever-increasing demand for food, as will be seen by the following statement:

"There are now 1,500,000 absolutely destitute, who receive food at bread prices. The men, women and children at this very moment are standing one behind the other waiting for the super dole would make a line 600 miles long. Every day as the number who can pay diminishes, the bread-line lengthens. Within a few months the line will be 2,500 miles long—which would reach from New York to Salt Lake City.

To feed the destitute requires at present $100,000 a day, or $3,000,000 a month, or at the rate of $36,000,000 a year. This was about the annual rate of appropriations for the Panama canal construction. When, in a few months, all the Belgians are destitute, it will take $12,000,000 a month, $144,000,000 a year, four times the annual expenditure for the canal. Already in addition to all that is donated we are expending $6,000,000 a month."

To aid in feeding these starving people is the work which we have voluntarily taken up, and unlike any other philanthropy, in which we have ever engaged, demands increase with the passage of time. This means systematic giving for months to come and we can not afford to shirk the responsibility.

WHAT IT MEANS.

From a strategic point of view the attack of the allied fleets upon the Dardanelles is of overwhelming importance. With the lines of battle in the west, in Belgium and France, holding about their same position, the Russians practically preserving their long battle line along the German and Austrian frontier, the division of Turkey into two component parts, would relieve the situation immensely and would enable England and Russia to devote their full attention to the matter at hand of crushing the German foe.

Not only that, but the admission of the Russian fleet of the Black sea into the Mediterranean, the influx of the wealth of wheat from the fertile fields of southern Russia to the marts of the allies means enough in itself to warrant the attack upon the hitherto supposed impregnable defenses of Constantinople. The only thing that is another side to the situation, the English ministry have announced that Russia is to reach down to its coveted goal and hold Constantinople. The recent Russian reverses were the reason for the utterances of the British ministry and the assured success of the attack upon the Dardanelles, the time to make the announcement, that Russia was about to realize its dream and send its ships into the warm seas.

Russia, pressed by Germany and Austria, might weaken. The war might end with Germany in possession of the Polish territory of Russia and the loss of Warsaw could be forgotten should Constantinople be given as a reward for faithful services. Then, too, it will have its effect upon bringing Roumania into the conflict. Italy can not much longer remain neutral. Greece must protect its interests, and even Bulgaria will be awake to the responsibility that rests with its ultimate decision as to which side to enter in the struggle. With the allies in possession of the Dardanelles, Italy, Greece, and Roumania must nullify their interests with the allies, while Bulgaria, if it remains neutral, must refrain from aiding Austria in fear of the adjacent states.

"The Nation," in commenting upon the situation says:

"The conquest by the allies of the highway between the Black sea and the Mediterranean would be far-reaching in its political results, which in turn are bound to influence the military situation. The delicate balance in the Near East, and Italy, will respond to the new pull on the allied side. But even the immediate results are of the highest importance. With Turkey split in two and her offensive power reduced to a minimum, the pressure on Russia in the Caucasus will be relieved. The safety of Egypt will have been secured. The large English forces in Egypt will be released for service elsewhere. To Russia there will be an immediate profit in the establishment of an important line of communications with her allies in the Mediterranean. There is much talk of the outpour of Russian wheat when the Dardanelles are opened. But more important for the moment will be the impetus of munitions of war into Russia from the west. With her Arctic ports frozen, Russia at present can draw supplies only by way of Vladivostok, a round-about way, considering how great are her needs of war material. German authorities have laid stress on Russia's enormous losses in guns and munitions, and have predicted that long before her supply of men gives out, Russia will be in want of arms and equipment. The opening of the Dardanelles would change all that."

THE FAIRS.

This week at Madison the question of giving state aid to the Janesville fair will be practically decided upon. The recognition of the local institution as an established organization for the promotion of the interests of agriculture, horticulture and live stock interests, must be gratifying to the community at large and the stockholders of the organization that made this possible. The Janesville fair is an established institution as it is. It demonstrated last August what can be accomplished along the line of exhibits and the showing made then was superior in many ways to other exhibits held in other districts later on. Associated with the Janesville fair idea is that of the Rock county fair already established, already receiving state aid and already in a flourishing condition. Its annual show, following the Janesville fair, shows the results of the labors of the agricultural population of the entire county. The Rock fair, while not in Wisconsin, is a third one that the citizens of Rock county can well be proud of and with three big exhibits in the one county, supported by county people and county capital, the exploitation of the products and industries of the community can be shown to advantage.

Over in Germany they are prohibiting the eating of pancakes three times a day as a method of saving their food supply. Thunder and lightning. Three times a day for pancakes? Why half the American families think them a luxury once or twice a week.

The state legislature is hard at it again. Some of the members appear to gain redoubled energy in their Sunday off and get down to work with a vim while others need a day or two to catch up sleep and get down to business.

Washington must be a pretty dead place these days after two years of activity. However, the next congress when it convenes in December, will live things up considerably and help make up the deficit.

Congress has disbanded but Watchful, Waiting Woodrow Wilson is still on the lid down in Washington. With Wilson on guard there is no need to worry. There will be nothing doing.

Senator Root's last remarks as a statesman were against weakening the navy. How his good sense clung to him even to the very end of his official life.

The Day's News.

Down to Panama they've sent Quite a piece of armament.

This one gun could send a navy With a single shot to Davy Jones' locker in a wink.

It's some cannon, don't you think? No, of course we want no frills.

But we will fight if they make us. And the blamed canal is ours.

And if any foreign powers Seek to wrest it from our keeping We must set them all to sleeping.

With a load of junk that's hurled From the big gun of the world.

There's no use in being scrappy, But we might as well be happy.

With our commerce ditch immense, That we've dug at much expense.

Though, of course, we don't expect it, Someone may make us protect it.

Ten Years Ago.

The man who owned an auto was considered a bend incarnate.

The waist line for women was closed up under the arms.

People were just beginning to claim that wireless telegraphy was bunk.

Women were still wearing at least two petticoats.

Sarah Bernhardt was making her "farewell tour" of America.

Some darn fool was trying to invent a flying machine. Hail! Hail!

The preposterous suggestion was made that a tunnel could be built under the Detroit river.

All of the dudes were wearing peg top shoes.

People were getting their first good laugh out of the suggestion of a wireless cooker.

The little Singer Building was the tallest structure in New York.

Nat Goodwin had been married only three times.

Ol' Dad Reynolds Tells Us:

"Speakin' my snow, sed Truthful, you fellows don't know what cold wether is. I wuz on a gang when we blit the pearmids (sumptin like 4,000 years ago), when it wuz so cold an' dry that the River Nile froze over so thick that we slid them big stones 1,500 miles on the ice and dragged them from the river on a snow road. They used a thermometer 8 feet long that winter."

Visions of Bliss.

He had a dream, a joyous dream, That thrilled him to the soul;

He dreamt with a receipted bill And watched a row of wagons fill.

His cellar full of coal.

He dreamed again a pleasant dream, His smile was great to view;

His snoring struck a tuneful note, Because he thought his overcoat Was just as good as new.

He dreamed once more, a wondrous dream; It brought a mental glow.

He dreamed that for a price dirt cheap A neighbor had agreed to keep His sidewalk free of snow.

Again he dreamed, a dreamy dream; His smile was great to view;

A missile on the table lay, Which said his spouse had gone away.

For a week or two maybe.

He dreamed a dream of pure delight, He owned a limousine.

He dreamed without a single frown That Rockefeller had cut down The price of gasoline.

How to be "Prosperous."

Eat dinner at night.

Write to your house and buy an automobile.

Let the groceryman and meat dealers wait awhile.

Borrow money to join a couple of country clubs.

SIDE TALKS

BY RUTH CAMERON

ROOTS.

"I will study and get ready and maybe my chance will come."
—Abraham Lincoln.

The bulbs that I put down in the cellar to get ready to grow have been brought up stairs. They sit in the sunlight now and are sending their pale green shoots up toward the sun.

The daily development of these shoots, as everyone knows, is beautiful to watch, but beneath the surface of the water is another miracle of growth which, though it usually wins less attention, somehow fascinates me. While the bulbs were down cellar waiting for the chance to grow upwards, they were very busy striking down into the water dozens of exquisite little silver roots. For every stalk there are at least a dozen roots at all angles, growing and clamoring about the bowl, twining around the pebbles, holding the bulbs firmly upright and seeking out nourishment for them. Without these busy little roots, even the best of the sun would not make the slender green blades carrying the flowers-to-be sheltered between them grow upward.

One bulb for some reason failed to send its roots down during the period of preparation; it has started to do so now but it has just a little runt of a stalk and I am afraid it will never catch up with the others that have such a head start.

One of the fascinations of studying animal or plant life is finding whimsical little analogies to human life.

The bulb that put a handicap on itself by not sending down roots in the time of preparation makes me think of the human beings who set themselves back in the same way. The reason that some people are ready to respond to opportunity while others are not is that during the making-time periods—the periods of enforced passivity, some of us are sending down roots and some of us are not.

A man who held a small position as the custodian of a very old house was asked by one of the visitors something about the woods used in the construction of the house. He knew nothing about the subject, but being the kind of man that sends down roots, at once began to study the question. He studied it so thoroughly that a year later when a man to demonstrate the use of certain woods in old houses was wanted by a lumber association, he was selected. The position was meant money, the chance to travel, romance—in short, a new life to him, all because he sent down roots.

In this way, self-education on any subject is one of the roots that will sustain and support us when we get a chance to grow; knowledge of human nature is another; habits of perseverance, of order, of system are others; an attractive presence is a very valuable root. Of course there are many others, but to cite more is superfluous. You know what I mean already. The question for us both is—how are your roots?

GREEK QUEEN IS FOR PEACE; SHE'S KAISER'S SISTER

Queen of Greece.

While almost everyone in Greece wants to go to war, King Constantine is for peace. It is believed the reason can be found in the fact that the Queen of Greece is Emperor William's sister.

This woman continues to go out with other men you will certainly have to drop her. Talk to her again and if she refuses to straighten up, have nothing more to do with her.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) If a girl's parents break up the home and she has to earn her own living, does her father still have control over her?

(2) When is a girl of age?

(3) I have sores and pimples on my face. Is peroxide good for them?

(4) She is under her father's jurisdiction until she is of age.

(5) A girl is of age at eighteen in most states; at twenty-one in a few.

(6) Bad blood probably causes the sores and pimples. A good blood remedy would do more good than anything else, but peroxide may help.

Some people find it very good.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

FOR ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

St. Patrick's day is an ideal day for entertaining, for nothing is prettier than a color scheme of green and white for table decorations and to carry it out in all the appointments throughout the house and in the luncheon or dinner menu.

The luncheon cloth may be trimmed with shamrocks and harps, following the border of the cloth, while the centerpiece may be a basket of white flowers interspersed with green, or a pretty green fern.

The place cards may be in the form of little green hats with pipes and shamrocks, or small white cards designed in green, while the hon. hon. dishes may be in the form of pigs, which stand on a larger paper shamrock, and should be filled with many pretty little things which would be stores now which would make a table for a St. Patrick day luncheon or dinner look very pretty.

Here are some recipes which could be used in a St. Patrick's day luncheon or dinner:

Salad in Green Pepper Cases.—One bunch celery, half pound English walnut, half pound apples and one head lettuce. Chop mix all together and serve in green pepper cases with mayonnaise or French dressing. Besides being very pretty this is a very delicious salad.

St. Patrick's Day Whip.—Whip one pint good cream, then add stiffly beaten whites of three eggs, half cup powdered sugar and one cup of finely powdered macaroon. Add a teaspoon of vanilla, half teaspoon bitter almond color with green vegetable coloring and freeze for two hours.

St. Patrick's Cake.—A very appropriate cake for St. Patrick's day: Three and one-half cups flour, three cups sugar, one cup butter, one cup milk, five eggs, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon cream of tartar. Rub butter and sugar together, add eggs yolks beaten until light color, add together thoroughly the flour, soda and cream of tartar, and add alternately with the milk. Lastly, add whites of eggs beaten to a stiff froth and add two teaspoons vanilla. Bake in deep round pan; when cold, cover with white icing, putting a border of green around the bottom. With a sharp knife cut the cake into slices around the side of the cake as pipes of shamrock on top. In the middle of this stand a tiny harp, which is shamrock may be made of citron if so desired. This makes a very pretty decoration for the center of the table.

Cream of Asparagus Soup.—Cut in inch pieces one can of asparagus and cover with boiling water. Slightly salted. Let come to a boil, then press through colander. Run to a blender and add to it a half cup of flour and add to it a half cup of rich milk. Let cool until smooth and creamy. Now add asparagus mixture and a little white pepper. Serve with croutons of toasted bread cut in shamrock shape.

WATERWORKS FOR THE COUNTRY HOUSEWIFE. There's a woman "country agent" in South Carolina who has been blessing the women of her country by "demonstrating" the following water works:

On the outside of the kitchen wall a shelf.

On the shelf an empty molasses barrel.

In the kitchen a galvanized 1.25 sink.

From the barrel to the sink a piece of pipe.

In the pipe a fifty-cent faucet. There's the start. Between that start and a bathroom and hot water lies many a weary day. But the smallness of this work is its bigness. Almost anybody can show people how to finish.

Real Lords of the Earth. He only is advancing in life whose heart is getting softer, whose blood warmer, whose brain quicker, and whose spirit is entering into living places. And the men who have this life in them are the true lords and kings of the earth—they and they only.—John Ruskin.

FOR LITTLE FOLKS

ALICE CROW GAIL

THE ILLNESS OF CORNELIA CALF.

Cornelia Calf one summer day began a noisy bawl; Said she, "I'm so uncomfortable, I don't feel well at all! I am so stuffy in the head that I can scarcely speak; And what is harder still to bear, my eyes and nose both leak."

Her mother said in great alarm, "I'll go for Doctor Sheep, And while I'm gone, Cornelia, dear, do try to get some sleep!" She hurried to the doctor's home and soon came back again, With wise old Doctor Sheep, who said, "My child, where is the pain?"

Cornelia said, "It's id by eyes; it's also id by nose." (She spoke like that because her head was stuffy, I suppose.) Then Doctor Sheep said right away, "I know what's wrong with her, She has been playing in the field and caught the hay-fever."

Said he to Mrs. Cow, "The child will have to go away To some place where she will not see a single bit of hay." "Where that will be," moaned Mrs. Cow, "I really do not know." "The sea-shore," said old Doctor Sheep, "is just where she should go."

Good Mrs. Cow was quite alarmed; "We'll go at once," said she, "But will you tell me, Dr. Sheep, where is the nearest sea?" "I'm quite sure," said Doctor Sheep, "I'll have to look around; But I am sure some handy sea can easily be found."

"I'll let you know this afternoon just what I've learned," said he, "And in the meantime she must take a dose of cow-slip tea." Miss Cornelia cried and bawled more loudly than before; "I will not go one simple step to any old sea-shore."

They tried to tell Cornelia that the sea-shore would be grand; Said she, "There's not a blade of grass and I can't live on sand." And though they coaxed and coaxed she said, "It is no use to tease." Then all at once Cornelia Calf commenced to sneeze and sneeze.

I do not know how true it is, but this is what folks say: By evening Miss Cornelia Calf had sneezed herself away; "I never goes to show it mostly pays to listen to advice, And if you have a doubt of this just try it once or twice."

Conducted by Prof. Lewis B. Allyn of Westfield, Mass.

"The Pure Food Town"

Address your questions to Food Editor and you will receive a reply by mail or through this column.

Light Injures Olive Oil. Do you believe olive oil keeps better in tins or in glass? Mrs. N. P. M.

Olive oil keeps better when not exposed to the light. It should be preferably packed in tin, brown glass containers, or crocks. We think it perfectly true that the oil keeps better in tin than it does in a clear glass bottle, particularly if the latter is exposed to the action of light rays.

Not Injurious. Will you kindly tell me if cooking lemon peel and all, in preserve makes the result injurious? For example: I would like to make a preserve of whole lemons, 1 cup of water, cook several hours. Mrs. G. W. E.

There is nothing in the combination that could be regarded as any way injurious.

Postum Free From Coffee. Is Postum entirely free from all admixture of coffee? A physician once told me that there was coffee in Postum.

Postum is free from coffee. The doctor was mistaken.

Intoxicating Cider. At what time of the year does cider cease to be sweet and become intoxicating?

J. E. There is no fixed time. It is dependent on the amount of fermentable sugars in the juice and the temperature at which it is kept. Under ordinary conditions, alcohol begins to form within a few hours from the percentage of sugar in the juice, but it increases notably when the cider is in a warm place. A high grade cider was kept for three months at an approximate temperature of 60 degrees.

This recently examined and the writer's laboratory showed 4.2 per cent alcohol by volume. The same lot kept in a cool cellar for the same length of time showed 1.12 per cent alcohol.

Condensed and Sweet Milk. Is condensed milk as nutritious as fresh milk? Mrs. M. V. O.

Condensed milk contains added sugar and less water. It has a high fuel value than fresh milk. Nutrition, however, includes ease and thoroughness of digestion. The individual factor must be considered. An absolute answer satisfying all conditions is impossible.

Easily Digested Foods. Please name some foods that are easily digested and also nutritious.

M. L. There is no hard and fast rule as to what foods can be easily digested by all. Some people thrive on foods which cannot be digested by others. In general, whole grains, fruits, vegetables, reasonable quantities of meats and the vegetable oils are easily digested and have marked nutritive value.

Peanut Butter. Will you please tell me the nutritive powers of good peanut butter? Is it especially good for children to eat plentifully? Do you know of any receipt I could use to make my own peanut butter, as my little boy loves it? He sometimes eats from four to eight tablespoons with it spread on, and that is why I ask you if it is good and nutritious for the growing child. He is not quite eight years old, would like to make my own peanut butter.

Mrs. W. M. C. Peanuts are very rich in protein and fat, and form a valuable addition to the diet. Good peanut butter, used in moderation, is an excellent ration for the child. It is a simple matter to make the nut butter-plate which comes with many kinds of good chopers. We doubt, however, whether you can do as well and as cheaply as you can buy a high grade manufactured product. Peanut butter of the best grade consists of a society of finely ground peanuts, nothing added, with perhaps the exception of a small quantity of salt, and nothing taken away.

Glimpses of Married Life

BY MRS. EVA LUGNARD

"I think this is from your mother." Nell handed Dick a letter. "Now that we are settled we must ask your people to visit us."

"Mother says she is planning to come up here next week. It's been two years since I've seen her. She can give her a good time," answered Dick.

"Isn't your father coming too?" inquired Nell.

"No, they have no hired man yet and we cannot leave the farm at once; there would be no one to wait on the animals."

"I hope you'll like my mother," Dick said. "She's a wonderful sweet woman. My mother is not at all like her," he added slowly.

Nell felt a flutter of dread when a tall, uncompromising looking woman stepped off the train and gave Dick and herself a peck in lieu of a kiss.

"So this is your wife, Richard," and she looked Nell up and down as if taking an inventory of her clothes. "You don't look as if you could stand much," was her only comment.

"She's pretty rugged after all," said Dick. "I'll take a bus up to the house, mother. You know we have no street cars."

"No, I'll walk. It isn't far, is it?" Dick carried his mother's bag up to her room, set it down and turning to her, laid his hand on her shoulder and said:

"Don't you like my mother?"

"Certainly I do; she's a wonderfully sweet woman. My mother is not at all like her," he added slowly.

PUT YOUNG AHEARN IN LEADING CLASS OF MIDDLEWEIGHTS

Test of English Middle Will be Made When He Meets Eddie McGorty in New York.

(By Striker.)

Ring experts credit Young Ahearn, an English fighter weighing 154 pounds with being a master with the gloves in all middleweight in the world today. He has been over in America for a short space of time, but he is a short space of time, and those skilled in ring affairs declare this youngster to have all the opportunities of the championship.

Ahearn learned the game under the instructions of Joe Jeannette, an unbeatable negro fighter, in France who had the use of his two hands, the edge of the black fighter and has whipped some tough men in Gotham rings. Ahearn first attracted attention in America as the result of bouts with England and the time Gunboat Smith was parading as the white heavyweight champion. Since coming to America the English middleweight has shown that he may be matched with the celebrated Gibbons, an exponent of the west who about the class of the glove arguers of the present day.

Ahearn has had trouble in obtaining matches in New York and has consequently went on with a number of hardened negro fighters, whom he has shut out. Every time Ahearn started he came out on top, no matter if his opponent was a middleweight or heavyweight. He is reported to be as fast as a shadow, and he has a heavy left hand. He is shooting the upper cuts and short jolts that carry a weight of steam and snap behind him. Because of his early training by Jeannette, Ahearn has a sound and well-balanced system of defensive fighting and boxes the American open style.

Equal of Gibbons? His backers are confident that he could take the best of Gibbons, but those who have seen the Saint Paul "phantom" in action and watched him dazzle McGorty and Clabby in recent bouts are forced to control a heavy laugh when Ahearn as champion is talked. Even though New York men give him credit to be master of the middles and compare him to McCoy, this does not mean that Gibbons and McGorty match is mentioned for their worth has been proven. At least Ahearn will wear watching in his coming battle with McGorty and latter with Eddie McGorty.

Gibbons after Heavies. Mike Gibbons, the ten round no-decision champion, is now anxious to make the league of heavyweights. The "ghost" does not believe he will experience any difficulty in beating the present crop of white hopes and is particularly anxious for a fight with Gus D'Amico. Gibbons is admitted to be about the best when it comes to skilled boxing and against the slower big fellows he should have no trouble in holding his own. He is now with Smith and his hands full with Battling Levinsky and Gibbons is so far above Levinsky that there is no comparison.

Why McGorty Lost. If I could have his Gibbons at Hudson I would have won" declares Eddie McGorty in the after-battle statement. All of the middleweights have experienced the same trouble and that is, they have been out of the middleweight division that can defeat the shift champ in ten rounds. McGorty has hopes of getting Gibbons into a 20 round bout. McGorty is now with Battling Crouse on March 17th, and hopes to wear the green to a K. O. victory. After the Crouse scrap he will meet Young Ahearn at New York, the date for which is undecided.

Shugrue's Eyes Bad. Boxing fans are watching the result of an operation that has been performed on Joe Shugrue, the sensation eastern lightweight who has been out of the ring for some time. Shugrue is one of his optics and the result of the treatment is uncertain. If his sight is lost, America will lose a cracking good lightweight and the fight will be a loss for Shugrue was found to drop a twenty round mill at New Orleans with Joe Mandot because of the injury but his services will be in demand, if he recovers, as "Terse" Skeen holds two popular decisions over Welsh.

Griffiths Wins. Johnny Griffiths, of Akron, Ohio, stepped a notch higher when he gave Joe Azevedo a wallowing in the Black Sox fight. Griffiths, who is a rising star and may meet Johnny Dundee last of March or early next month.

Means Business. The state boxing commission at their recent meeting showed that the mean business when they suspended three Chicago fighters for an indefinite period. Ruby Hirsch and Frankie Izzo got the lid clamped down for failure to appear before the commission at its monthly meeting. Hirsch was charged with delaying a fight at Kenosha and Izzo for foul tactics against "Kewpie" Briel. Strickland and on enforcement of the law as to the success of legalized boxing depends.

RACING IS COMING BACK INTO ITS OWN. Countrywide efforts are being made to restore racing again, and that there is a certain demand for the restoration of conditions under which the game can be restored with profit to the promoters, seems evident from the following facts:

Missouri, Indiana, Arkansas, Nevada, California and other states legislatures are considering, or will soon vote on, bills providing for the resumption of racing under pari-mutuel or other modified betting conditions.

New Orleans has restored the game and is bringing to a close a forty days' meeting which, in the language of the Business Men's Racing Association, promoters of the event, is "the most successful in history." Eastern tracks are making preparations to open the season with betting on a cash basis. Havana, Cuba, is having a big-racing old frontier days' meeting, with the states up. There is a winter meet in the past, is putting up more money than formerly, despite the fact that Mexico is still in an unsettled condition.

WISCONSIN RESERVES PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Lakotas to Play Off Tie With Madison Champions and Winner Will Meet Fond du Lac Flye.

On Saturday the Lakota Cardinals will play off the series with the Wisconsin Reserves in a return game which will be a semi-final contest for a match a week later with the "champion" Fond du Lac flye, for the baseball title of the state. Last Saturday the Reserves defeated the Cardinals 28 to 20 in a hard fought game, and the Lakotas won from the Madison aggregation a month ago by a close score.

Both teams having honors even, they will meet for the title of southern Wisconsin with the right to meet the northern champions. A week ago the Reserves outclassed the Lakotas and played a superior game, but on Saturday with Edler in line, a different result is expected. All of the Cardinals were sadly weak on baskets and lost through their inability in aging the ball at opportune times. Atwood and Dixon will perform at forwards, Hemming at center, Edler and an untried player at guards. The hard game at Monroe before the contest last Saturday sapped the Lakota's fighting strength and they were unable to play with the dash and vigor that usually characterizes their playing.

The Reserves will have the same team that won the Jansville five, and are again confident that they will defeat the Lakotas. The Reserves are a great combination and each night are playing against the varsity five, and the Badgers have never been able to trim the Reserves by a wide margin. It is expected Edler will be switched to guard Chandler, the Reserve star, and Ryan and Falter against Meyers who is not a good basket shooter but a good floor man. A game with Fond du Lac has been sought by the Cardinals during the entire season, and now that the alleged state champions can be easily down here for a game if the local can show the southern Wisconsin title. The Lakotas will fight to the limit to win the game Saturday night.

Sport Snap Shots

MORRIS MILLER

It is quite possible that McGraw regrets that he ever permitted Heinie Groh to go to Cincinnati. Groh, played regularly, has proved a little marvel for the Reds, and McGraw probably feels that he might have saved the little fellow to fill the shoes of the declining Larry Doyle. But the loss of the best of them get fooled, and Fred Clark, the only pilot who has traded gold for bronze and ivory.

Joe Tucker tells "a good yarn on Larry McLean. When Larry was with the Cardinals he was third-string catcher and all he did was warm up pitchers. His old mother, one day telegraphed him not to play on Sundays, and he sent back this fearful reply: "Do not worry, mother dear, I am not even playing on week days."

President Ebricht of the Wichita Western league club hopes to inaugurate a free gate this year. He proposes to give away 500 season passes for 50 cents each, and may move these turnstiles for the home games.

Hugh Jennings expects to make expenses on the training trip this year. Ty Cobb will report with the first squad and be in condition to appear in all the exhibitions. Usually he comes up the spring barnstorming tour.

True to his promise, Branch Rickey is working Derrill Pratt on first and Earl Shotton at second. Herman, the Elmira man, is also working at first.

Jack Coombs, just like baseball in general, got in the courts down in Maine the other day. A hearing was held up for shooting bears out of season. He said he didn't shoot any bear; if he did he didn't know any more of season. He was out of an old bear that was ready to cash in.

When Manager Miller Huggins of the Cardinals threw a contract for players last fall he was not very lucky in obtaining athletes who could swing the pill for a 300 mark or pitchers who could fool the opposition in starting fairs. Among the rookies who will receive a tryout with the Cardinals this spring just two hit for better than 300 marks in the "bushes" last year. They were Betzel and Long, who recently came from the Nationals in exchange for Pitcher Booth Hooper. Betzel hit .312 in the South Atlantic league, while Long compiled a mark of .303 in the Southern.

Mike Mitchell, Washington outfielder, who spends his odd time acting as betting commissioner, is out on a tour of the race horse owners in the country, is seriously thinking of giving up the national pastime for good. Mike at present is in Havana, and has found the picking of winners that he wants to go to Baltimore for the meet there. He has written a friend that he may pass up baseball altogether and devote his time to the ponies.

Queer Mays these in baseball. Only a short time ago when Austin jumped the Browns, Col. Bob Hedges and Branch Rickey burst into print with the statement that they had asked waivers on Jimmy and had obtained them, too. "Austin is all done as a major," Hedges and he does not care to return to the Browns.

Joe Gangel has again signed up as manager of the Rochester International league team. He is a rattling good leader and always has his team battling for the top position in the league race. He has practically made Rochester a good baseball town.

MANROSS WINS AGAIN IN VOLLEY BALL LEAGUE

Manross and his volley ball team won another game yesterday afternoon in the business men's class at the Y. M. C. gymnasium, by a score of 21 to 19 over Chase. The match was entertained by keen rivalry. Friday afternoon Wilcox will meet Chase.

RIVAL SPIES USED THE SAME BUILDING

German's Outwit French in Using Lone Farm House to Communicate Army Signals.

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, March 10.—The mystery of a lone farm house which stood for months undamaged on a conspicuous knoll in the very heart of the battle zone near Roye, with nothing but ruins all about it, has just been cleared up by a French infantry captain.

From this building the French watched the operations of the Germans in their trenches a quarter of a mile distant. They expected every day to become the target for the German artillery which played all around and even demolished the hut of an old peasant woman, only a hundred yards away. Every morning at dawn, they crept up to the place from the rear and took their observations. A peasant farther back of the lines suggested that the owner of the farm had paid the Germans a round sum to spare his property and this explanation prevailed for some time.

One morning the French approached the place they were met by the peasant woman whose hut had been demolished and who had taken refuge in the cellar of the farm house.

"A spy came last night into the garret of the farm house," she declared and he made illuminated signals to the Germans from the window. The French officers could not believe it.

The next day and the next the old peasant declared positively that she had again seen a man come and seen the light shining from the window. "A spy could not possibly slip through our line of pickets," the officer insisted.

The following morning the woman asked the officer to take particular notice of the stairs leading to the garret. In a thin coating of ashes that she has spread over the steps a man's footprints were unmistakably outlined. "We'll see about that tonight," said the captain.

Instead of returning to the French line after completing their day's observations the detachment remained in the bushes around the house and watched the garret window. At eleven o'clock, though they had seen no enter the building, lights appeared in the window and the captain ordered a rush upon the stairway. At the same time a heavy body dropped to the ground on the other side.

The Germans had tolerated the use of the house by the French during the day in order to utilize it themselves at night. A complete signaling apparatus was installed and the spy who knew the place better than the French seemingly, had made good his escape.

Orfordville News

Orfordville, March 10.—Charles Egan loaded his household goods on Wednesday and has left for his new home at Bayfield, Wis. The family will remain here for some time till arrangements are completed for their comfort in the new part of the state. It is understood that Mr. Egan will engage in the fruit raising business.

Will Dean of Beloit was in the village on Wednesday for a few hours. He is working in the interests of the prohibition party and sees at this particular time a great future for them.

Nomination papers for candidate for the few offices that are to be filled this spring are being circulated in Orfordville and receiving the usual number of signatures.

A new front is to be put in the Onagard and Peterson building, occupied by the postoffice. The material has arrived and the work will be done in a very short time.

Orfordville is to have a new school house. This matter was finally decided on Tuesday evening at the meeting called for the purpose of considering the matter. The meeting was called to assemble at the school house, but it was found that the building was far too small to accommodate the crowd and a recess was taken with the understanding that when the meeting reconvened, it should meet at the opera house. A resolution was introduced instructing the board to secure the estate trust fund of thirteen thousand dollars for the purpose of building a school building. This resolution was carried by a good majority, and thus the question that has long been discussed was settled. None of the details have, as yet, been arranged.

SAYS WHEAT WILL DROP TO 50 CENTS A BUSHEL. (SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Wichita Falls, Texas, March 11.—Frank Kell one of the largest grain dealers in Texas, made the interesting statement that wheat would not be surprised to see wheat selling for as low as fifty cents per bushel by this time next year.

The price of wheat will depend altogether on the progress of the war, he said. "The key to the situation is the Dardanelles. If the waterway outlet is opened up it will enable Europe to flood the markets of the world with a surplus of 500,000,000 bushels of wheat that are now bottled in that country. The wheat acreage in Russia this season is only about two million acres below what it was last year. The decrease of acreage in France and Germany is not as great as one might naturally expect. With another big crop of the grain in Russia and a fair yield in Europe and Germany, together with a big crop in the United States, the price will fall tremendously if peace is declared before the next crop is harvested. The wheat acreage in Texas at this time is about 500,000 acres, and if a normal yield is obtained the State's crop this year should be about 25,000,000 bushels."

Further Reasons Why Westfield Objects to Benzoate of Soda.

Fourteenth of a series to appear on the Food Page of this paper each Thursday.

IN very fine print on some food labels you will find the statement: "Contains 1-10 of 1 per cent of Benzoate of Sodium" or "Benzoate of Soda," which is one and the same. Now, that may seem like an exceedingly small quantity—1-10 of 1 per cent—but Benzoate of Soda is an exceedingly powerful drug. Any quantity that is sufficient to be of service in preserving food products may be sufficient to cause harm to the human system, and the amount found in food products is often greatly in excess of 1-10 of 1 per cent. This is proved by the number of seizures and condemnations made by the Government Health authorities in all parts of the country.

Benzoate of Soda is not only harmful within itself, but it permits the marketing of inferior and harmful ray products. That is the main reason for using it. When fresh, pure and high grade material fails to conceal, that do not mind is employed there is no need of showing themselves in the open for the housewife who is watchful over the purity and wholesomeness of the family's food supply.

Professor Lewis B. Allen of Westfield, Mass., "The Pure Food Town," classes Benzoate of Soda as among the worst of adulterants. The same stand is taken by Dr. H. W. Wiley and other of the leading food authorities of America and the world.

Again this week we present a photographic copy of a letter, supplementing those published last week, showing the opinions of leading food manufacturers in proof of our claim that Benzoate of Soda is not necessary in the preparation of pure and wholesome foods made from pure and wholesome raw products.

This week's opinion is from the T. A. Snider Preserve Company, manufacturers of Catsup and Chili Sauce. Products that have nothing to conceal, that do not mind is employed there is no need of showing themselves in the open for Benzoate of Soda. All the legitimate manufacturers admit this. The housewife who picks up preserves, jams, jellies, pickles and the like amid clean surroundings needs no Benzoate of Soda to make the products keep. The factory that is insanitary and uses refuse or waste and partially decayed products must employ Benzoate of Soda to cover up the evidences of inferiority and deceive the consumer into believing the products pure and wholesome. Benzoate of Soda has been called "the substitute for cleanliness." It is the great food mask that permits the worst of foods to disguise themselves, so that the consumer very frequently finds it difficult to distinguish between them and the pure healthful foods.

The users of Benzoate of Soda always try to disguise the fact as much as possible. But the law compels them to state the presence of the drug on the label. They may deceive the housewife as to the amount of the drug they employ, but if she is careful and discerning they cannot deceive her as to the fact that Benzoate of Soda is used.

The word "Benzoate of Soda" on any product is an accusing finger and ought to be sufficient warning.

Here is the Food Standard of the Pure Food Town of Westfield, Mass.

More exacting than Government Food Standards or State Food Laws: "Foods shall not contain added ALUM, COPPER, FORMALDEHYDE, SULFURIC ACID or its Salts, BORIC ACID or its Salts, BENZOIC ACID or its Salts, FORMIC ACID or its Salts, HYDROFLUORIC ACID or its Salts, SALICYLIC ACID or its Salts, nor any other non-conditional preservative."

"Foods shall not be colored with COAL TAR DYES, nor with poisonous VEGETABLE COLORS, nor be contaminated with inert fillers, nor shall any substances be taken therefrom or added thereto so as to injuriously affect their quality, strength or purity."

"Foods shall be packed and sold under sanitary conditions and package goods shall bear no DISHONEST LABELS, nor labels bearing any EXaggerated or OBSCURE statements."

For protection to yourself and your family, see that you buy only foods and beverages that are certified under "The Westfield Standard."

You will then be buying only products of high food value—wholesome and pure.

An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Easily Prepared—Costs Very Little, but is Prompt, Sure and Effective

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about $2, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent also, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, whooping and spasmodic croup.

Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough and breaks the inflamed mucous membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes.

The effect of Pinex on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract combined with guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., 24 Wayne, Ind.

Toads.

There is nothing very attractive looking about toads. If you should find one of the homely little fellows hopping about among your flowers and plants do not allow anyone to disturb him, as they are invaluable to farmers and gardeners. They destroy many insects and bugs that would otherwise ruin plants.

Popular Russian Beverage.

A popular drink among the peasants of Russia is called quass. It is made by pouring warm water over rye or barley meal. It is a fermented liquor and is very sour, but has been used for years by these poverty-stricken people.

"Good morning, Freddy," said they, almost in one voice. As he passed behind their chairs on his way to Lydia's side, he slapped each of them cordially on the back. They seemed to swell with relief and gratitude. He was not in the habit of slapping them on the back.

"Good morning, gentlemen," said he. Then he lifted Lydia's slim fingers to his lips. "Good morning, dear." She squeezed his fingers tightly and smiled. A look of relief leaped into her eyes; she drew a long breath.

She poured his coffee for him every morning. Her hand shook a little as she lifted the tiny cream pitcher. "I didn't sleep very well," she explained in a low voice. His hand rested on her shoulder for a moment in a gentle caress.

"Poor old Jim!" sighed Mr. Dawes. "He'll probably have to ask us to vacate, too. I imagine she'll insist on making a spare bedroom out of our room, so she can entertain all of her internal relations. Jones, will you give me some more bacon and another egg?"

"And I thought it was nothing but a shipwreck," murmured Mr. Riggs, plaintively.

Frederic hurried through breakfast. Lydia followed him into the library.

"Are you going out, dear?" she asked anxiously.

"Yes, I've got to do something. I can't sit still and think of what's going to happen. I'll be back for lunch."

CHAPTER III.

The Bride.

Frederic flatly refused to meet the steamer when she docked. As if swayed by his decision, Dawes and Riggs likewise abandoned a plan to greet the returning master and his bride as they came down the gangplank. But for the almost peremptory counsel of Mrs. Desmond, Brood's son would have absented himself from the house on the day of their arrival. Jones and a footman went to the pier with the chauffeur.

It was half-past two in the afternoon when the automobile drew up in front of the house and the fur-coated footman nimbly hopped down and threw open the door.

James Brood, a tall, distinguished-looking man of fifty, stepped out of the limousine. For an instant, before turning to assist his wife from the car, he allowed his keen eyes to sweep the windows on the lower floor. In one of them stood his son, holding the lace curtains apart and smiling a welcome that seemed sincere. He waved his hand to the man on the sidewalk. Brood responded with a swift, almost perfunctory gesture and then held out his hand to the woman who was descending.

Frederic's intense gaze was fixed on the stranger who was coming into his life. At a word from Brood, she glanced up at the window. The smile still lingered on the young man's lips, but his eyes were charged with an expression of acute wonder. He had never looked upon a more beautiful creature in all his life. A kind of stupefaction held him motionless until he heard the door close behind them; in the brief interval, however, a picture had been impressed upon his senses that was to last forever.

She was slightly above the medium height, slender and graceful even in the long, thick coat that enveloped her. She did not wear a veil. He had a swift but enduring glimpse of a curiously pallid, perfectly modeled face; of jet black hair; of a firm, sensitive chin. Somehow he received the extraordinary impression that the slim, lithe body was never cold; that she expressed in some indefinable way the unvarying temperature of youth.

He hurried into the hall, driven by the latent spur of duty. He heard his father's warm, almost gay response to the greetings of the old men, whose hands he wrung with a fervor that was unmistakable. He heard him present them to the new Mrs. Brood as "the best old boys in all the world," and they were both saying, with spasmodic cackles of pleasure, that she "mustn't believe a word the young rascal said."

He was struck by the calm, serene manner in which she accepted these jocular contributions to the occasion. Her smile was friendly, her handshake cordial, and yet there was an unmistakable air of tolerance, as of one who is accustomed to tribute. She merely smiled and thanked them in simple, commonplace phrases. Her voice was low-pitched and marked by a huskiness that was peculiar in that it was musical, not throaty. Frederic, on first seeing her, had leaped to the conclusion that her English would not be perfect. He was somewhat surprised to discover that she had but the faintest trace of an accent. He awoke suddenly, however, to the realization that he had been looking into his new stepmother's eyes for a long time and that she was returning his gaze with some intensity.

"And this?" she said, abruptly breaking in upon one of Danbury's hasty reminiscences, effectually ending it, "this is Frederic?"

She came directly toward the young man, her small, gloved hand extended. Her eyes were looking into his with an intensity that disconcerted him. There was no smile on her lips. It was as if she regarded this moment as a pronounced crisis.

Frederic mumbled something fatuous about being glad to see her, and felt his face burn under her steady gaze. His father came forward.

"Yes; this is Frederic, my dear," he said, without a trace of warmth in his voice. As she withdrew her hand from Frederic's clasp, James Brood extended his. "How are you, Frederic?"

"Quite well, sir."

They shook hands in the most perfunctory manner.

"I need not ask how you are, father," said the son, after an instant's hesitation. "You never looked better, sir."

"Thank you. I am well. Ah, Mrs. Desmond! It is good to be home again with you all. My dear, permit me to introduce Mrs. John Desmond. You have heard me speak of my old comrade and—"

"I have heard you speak of Mr. Desmond a thousand times," said his wife. There may have been a shade of emphasis on the prefix, but it was so slight that no one remarked it save the widow of John Desmond, who had joined the group.

"Will you go to your room at once, Mrs. Brood?" asked Mrs. Desmond.

The new mistress of the house had not offered to shake hands with her, as James Brood had done. She had moved closer to Frederic and was smiling in a rather shy, pleading way, in direct contrast to her manner of the moment before. The smile was for her stepson. She barely glanced at Mrs. Desmond.

"Thank you, no. I see a nice, big fire and—oh, I have been so cold!" She shivered very prettily.

"Come!" cried her husband. "That's just the thing." No one spoke as they moved toward the library. "We must try to thaw out," he added dryly, with a faint smile on his lips.

His wife laid her hand on Frederic's arm. "It is cold outside, Frederic," she said; "very cold. I am not accustomed to the cold."

He was prepared to dislike her. He was determined that his hand should be against her in the conflict that was bound to come. And now, in a flash, a strange, new emotion rushed up within him like a flood. A queer, wistful note of sympathy in her voice had done the trick. Something in the touch of her fingers on his arm completed the mystery. He was conscious of a mighty surge of relief. The horizon cleared for him.

"But I Shall Not Be a Stepmother," She Said, Quickly.

"We shall do our best to keep you warm," he said quite gayly, and was somewhat astonished at himself.

They had preceded the others into the library. James Brood was divesting himself of his coat in the hall, attended by the leech-like old men. Mrs. Desmond stood in the doorway, a detached figure.

"You must love me, Frederic. You must be very, very fond of me, not for your father's sake but for mine. Then we shall be great friends, not antagonists."

He was helping her with her coat. "I confess I looked forward to you with a good deal of anxiety," he said.

"But I shall not be a stepmother," she said quickly. Her eyes were averted for an instant, then filled with a luminous smile. "I shall be Yvonne to you, and you Frederic to me. Let it be a good beginning."

"You are splendid!" he cried. "It's not going to be at all bad."

"I am sure you will like me," she said composedly.

Brood joined them at the fireside. "My dear, Mrs. Desmond will show you over the house when you are ready. You will be interested in seeing the old place. Later on I shall take you up to my secret hiding place, as they say in books. Ranjab will have the rooms in order by this evening. Where is your daughter, Mrs. Desmond?"

"She is at work on the catalogue, Mr. Brood, in the jade-room. In your last letter you instructed her to finish that—"

"But this is a holiday, Mrs. Desmond," said he, frowning. "Jones, will you ask Miss Lydia to join us for tea at half-past four?"

"You will adore Lydia," said Frederic to Mrs. Brood.

Apparently she did not hear him, for she gave no sign. She was looking about the room with eyes that seemed to take in everything.

"I am sure I shall be very happy in this dear old house," she said quietly. "Your own mother must have loved it, Frederic."

James Brood started. Unnoticed by the others, his fingers tightened on the gloves he carried in his hand.

the young man. "She died when I was a baby."

"But of course this was her home, was it not?"

"I don't know," said Frederic, uncomfortably. "I suppose so. I—I came here a few years ago and—"

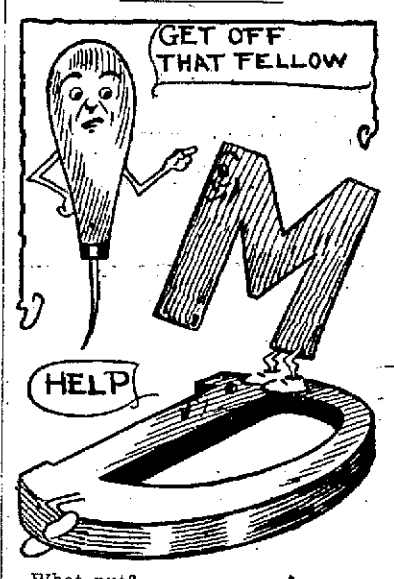

"But even though you never knew her, there must still be something here that—that—how shall I say it? I mean, you must feel that she and you were here together years and years ago. One may never have seen her. There is something—shall I say spiritual—in—"

Her husband broke in upon these unwelcome reflections. His voice was curiously harsh.

"Mrs. Desmond is waiting, Yvonne." She drew herself up. "Are you in such great haste, Mrs. Desmond?" she asked in a voice that cut like a knife.

Instinctively, she glanced at Frederic's face. She saw the muscles of the jaw harden and an angry light leap into his eyes. Instantly her arrogance fell away. "I beg your pardon, Mrs. Desmond. I have many bad habits. Now will you kindly show me to my room? I prefer that you and not of the servants should be my guide. Au revoir, Frederic. Till tea-time, James."

For moment the salesman was staggered, but he recovered his breath and replied: "No, madame, but we have some in enraged rat color."

This is the Stove Polish YOU Should Use

ITS different from others because more care is taken in the making and the materials used are of higher grade.

Black Silk Stove Polish

Makes a brilliant, silky polish that does not rub off or dust off, and the shiniest in four times as long as ordinary stove polish. Used on sample stoves and sold by hardware and grocery dealers.

At all times, use it on your cook stove, your parlor stove or your gas range. If you don't find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money in full on a no-questions-asked basis. It is sold in liquid or paste form.

Black Silk Stove Polish Works
Sterling, Illinois

Use Black Silk Stove Polish on Enamel on grates, registers, stove-covers, etc. Use Black Silk Metal Polish for silver, nickel or brass. It has a special formula for use on automobiles.

"A Shine in Every Drop"

PUBLIC DANGER.

A Warning Which May Save Your Life or That of Your Children.

Be careful what you take for a cold. Many so-called "cold cures," "cough balms," etc., contain opium, morphine or other poisonous drugs. Remember that Father John's Medicine is absolutely free from dangerous drugs. Father John's Medicine has had more than fifty years' success for colds and throat and lung troubles.

Father John's Medicine

Best for Colds, throat and lungs. Builds you up. No Alcohol or dangerous drugs

If you have any difficulty in securing Father John's Medicine from your druggist write to Father John's Medicine, Lowell, Mass., enclosing $1.00 for a large bottle by express prepaid.

AT MYERS THEATRE

ADVERTISEMENT

An attraction of unusual interest is announced at the Myers Theatre for March 15 and 16, matinee daily, when will be shown over one mile of German war films, taken by special permission of the German staff. These wonderful motion pictures are now in their fifth successful week at the Irving Place theatre, New York City and come direct from the Kaiser Theatre, Milwaukee. Many of the pictures were secured within the range of the big guns and will be described in detail by the noted lecturer, Baron Edmund von Rakowski, an engineer in the 4th Elite Regiment of Berlin and from a Boarding School. "When a Fellow Needs a Friend" and "Night Time".

Guy Bates Post in "Omar, The Tent-maker." The elaborate musical setting, which is a pleasing feature of the marvelous Persian spectacle, "Omar, The Tent-maker," in which Guy Bates Post will appear at the Myers Theatre for one night, Monday, March 22nd, was especially composed for this production, by the gifted California musician, Anita Baldwin, who is a daughter of the late Western pioneer,

The Million Dollar Doll This is one of the few cities to be visited by the much-talked-of musical comedy success "The Million Dollar Doll" under the direction of Harvey D. Orr, appearing here Sunday, March 14, matinee and evening, at the Myers theatre.

There can be no doubt as to the merits of this big production which has already delighted thousands of music lovers the world over. Its song hits are now being played in nearly every large theatre and the inspiring waltz song "Night Time" has become a musical sensation.

The scenes of "The Million Dollar Doll" take place near America's most picturesque river, the Hudson, which gives great opportunities for beautiful stage settings. The first act shows the magnificent ball room of Col. Barrington, a wealthy retired army officer, the finale of the first act presents a wonderful dancing ensemble which embraces the entire company, so gorgeously gowned that several of the leading critics credit Mr. Orr with having "Out Broadway Broadway."

The third act scene is an elaborate garden party on the Hudson with a spectacular cabaret scene, probably the most expensive stage setting ever seen in musical comedy. The story centers around "The Million Dollar Doll," who is troubled with an over abundance of ardent suitors including a flirtatious uncle, a broken down college professor, along with a fascinating widow and her dancing girls. Among the song hits are "The Dancing Cruise," "Society," "A Little Girl

"Lucky Baldwin." The most petted member of the company by the way is a beautiful tiger-hued cat named Minnie. This historically inclined feline is just naturally "death on rats," and as theatre stages are notoriously rat-infested it may readily be conjectured that Minnie is having the most glorious time of his nine-lived existence.

If the expressions of approval that have been showered everywhere upon May Robson, can be taken as a criterion, the comedienne has every reason to believe that fortune smiles upon her present venture, "Martha by the Day," in which she will be seen at the Myers theatre, Wednesday, March 17. In it Miss Robson enacts the jovial, generous, sentimental, capable and comforting scrub-woman of Julia M. Lippmann's delightful books. Martha's capable capacity for getting people out of difficulties, promoting their welfare, arranging their affairs of the heart and playing the part of Providence with a Tipperary accent, is exactly suited to Miss Robson's delightful qualities as a character comedienne and she evidently enjoys the presentation of it. Her audiences seem to be heartily with her in this. While the play is built about one captivating character, it is filled with wit, brimming good nature and also has its moments of melodrama. The staging consists of three effective sets and the supporting company is particularly capable, judging from its reception in every city visited, and from its inherently popular qualities, several satisfactory seasons can be predicted for the amusing play.

GOT START THROUGH ANOTHER'S BAD LUCK

George Burns.

George Burns, the New York Giants' outfielder, who is considered by many one of the best all-around ball players in the country, got his start through another's bad luck. Burns was playing with the Utica team in the New York State league in 1911. He was released in mid-season, but on what was to be his last day with Utica, Louis Hartman, Utica shortstop, broke his leg. Burns was retained and from that day played the sort of a game that now insures him a large salary in fast company.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Louisa Wylie.
Louisa Sophia Waddell, who died Monday at the age of 83 years, at Porter, was the daughter of William and Caroline Waddell. She was born in Sunderland, England, on the twenty-first day of August, 1832. Here she grew to womanhood, and on June 25th, 1855, she was married to John Thompson of Arbroath, Scotland. Together they embarked for America, and after a six weeks' voyage they reached New York City. Thence across the continent to Chicago, where they located and began to establish a home. Here they lived about three years, when with their first-born, James Robert, they came to Janesville. Here they prospered and lived happily for about four years, when death claimed the husband and father of four small children. For several years following she struggled and sacrificed as only a mother can, to care for her little ones. In 1863 she was married to Robert Wylie of the town of Fulton. Death severed this union twenty-two years later, in 1885. She was an ever faithful wife.

Since that time it was her greatest joy to minister to the wants of her children and grandchildren, of which she had seventeen, and one great-grandchild. For the last sixteen months, when she was unable to care

"TIZ" FOR SORE TIRED FEET—AH

"TIZ" is grand for aching, swollen, sweaty, calloused feet or corns.

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet; no more swollen, bad-smelling, sweaty feet. No more soreness in corns, calouses, bunions.

No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "TIZ." "TIZ" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "TIZ" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, calouses or bunions.

Get a 25 cent box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "TIZ." Get a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents. Think of it.

for herself longer, she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. F. Gardiner, who in return found happiness in trying to alleviate her suffering, which for the last six months has been most intense.

She is survived by two sons, James of the town of Fulton, and John of the town of Porter, and Mrs. Wm. F. Gardiner of the town of Porter. A daughter, Carrie, whose death she could never become reconciled to, preceded her to the great beyond Oct. 3, 1878, at the age of twenty.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Wm. F.

Gardiner, conducted by Rev. William A. Leighton, and a large and representative number of friends followed the remains to Janesville cemetery, where interment was made.

Insect Pest Causes Heavy Loss.
It is reported that the blowfly causes an annual loss of more than 1,000,000 sheep in Australia. Victoria has not yet seriously suffered from this pest, owing, no doubt, to the compulsory dipping of all sheep, and to the starlings, which are here found in large numbers.

Heard in the Garden.
Why are corn and potatoes like the idols of old? Because the corn have ears and they hear not, and the potatoes have eyes and they see not.

HAIR COMING OUT? GOT DANDRUFF OR DOES SCALP ITCH?—25 CENT DANDERINE

SAVE YOUR HAIR! MAKE IT SOFT, FLUFFY, LUSTROUS AND BEAUTIFUL.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

Watch Your Children

Often children do not let parents know they are constipated. They fear something distasteful. They will like Rexall's Candy—a mild laxative that tastes like sugar. Sold only by us, 10 cents.

Daily Thought.

HIS DISCOVERY TO REVOLUTIONIZE PRODUCTION OF GASOLINE AND DYES

Dr. Walter F. Rittman.

The discovery by Dr. Walter F. Rittman, chemist of the U. S. bureau of mines, of a revolutionary process that will increase production of gasoline 200 per cent and, at the same time, supply dye-stuffs of which Germany has had a monopoly, and material for smokeless powder and explosives, has caused many to regard the young man as a second Edison. Rittman was born in Erie county, Ohio, within gunshot of the house in which Thomas A. Edison was born.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, Mar. 11, 1875.—A lad nine years old will play a violin at All Souls' social tomorrow night.

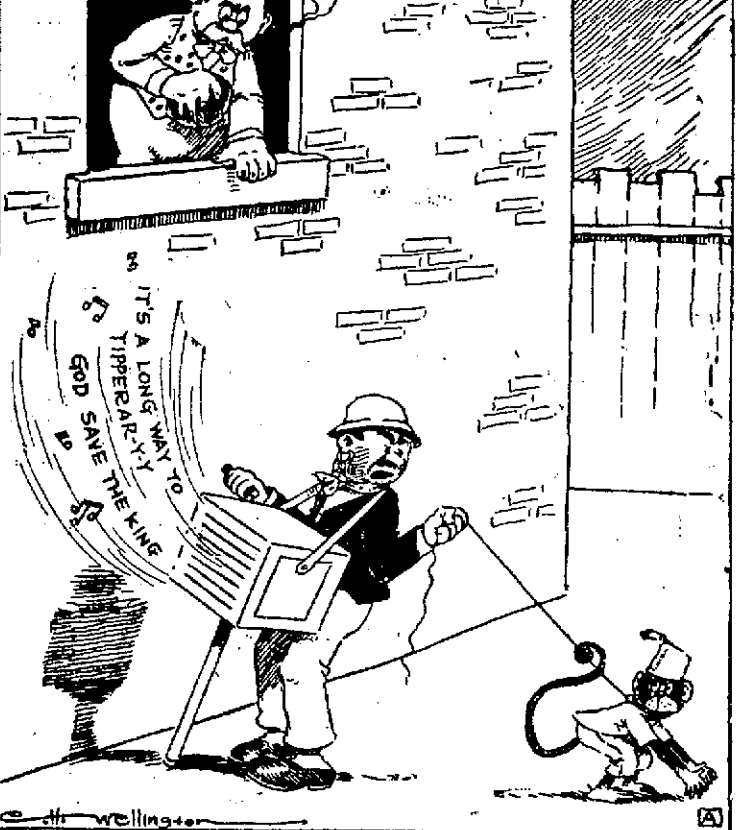

Two inches of snow fell last night which dispelled the springlike weather which we have been enjoying for the past three or four days.

Henry Jenks and Charlie Ellison who were before Judge Fritchard yesterday for stealing a sheep's pouch and a couple of guns were fined ten dollars each. Hen paid his but would be tough on Ole Afton.

Charlie had an empty pouch and had to go to jail to work out his fine.

We have received a private letter from John E. Powers who is in Washington to the effect that he has secured twenty of the best mail routes in Wisconsin. He also notes that A. M. Thompson of Milwaukee is at the capitol making a desperate effort for the Milwaukee postoffice, and threatens to move that city from the lake shore to Afton, Gee, that would be tough on Ole Afton.

The Broad Way Leads to Goodyear Tires

Try it a little while. It has carried some 400,000 motorists to the haven of content. It is traveled by more users than has any other tire. That has been so for years.

We can't win you to Fortified Tires by asking you to try them. The tires themselves must win you.

But our plea is that you should try the tires that countless men found best. There must be a reason as you know, why Goodyears dominate like this. Last year men bought about one Goodyear for every car in use.

Men Like You

This Goodyear army is composed of men like you. They want quality, safety, endurance. They want trouble-saving and low cost per mile.

Goodyears best met these wants. They met them because they are Fortified Tires.

In five costly ways, employed by no other maker, they offer unique protection. They combat five troubles—rim-cuts, blowouts, loose treads, punctures and skidding—as is done in no other tire.

Price Reduction

On February 1st we made another big price reduction. That makes three reductions in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

Today Goodyears, more than ever before, offer you most for the money. They offer you the utmost possible in tires, measured by cost per mile.

Doesn't their top place prove that? The following Goodyear Service Stations will supply you:

Field & Co., Mandel Bros., and Chas. A. Stevens & Co. So we say that this will be a good, safe place to buy ready-to-wear garments, as every garment that will leave this new store will be guaranteed to be properly fitted and perfect in every detail.

Mr. H. K. McMinn of Chicago, who will have charge of our decorating, has been extremely busy for the past few days, working on the designs and trimming for the new windows and display cases. Mr. McMinn's ability is unquestioned as will be evidenced from our windows when they are unveiled.

The magnificent paneling which will form the background for our windows is being placed today. We are not going to tell you here what it is like. We would rather you would see it for yourself when the windows are unveiled. You can then more properly appreciate it, as it is beyond our poor pen to justly describe this beautiful work.

Our Opening Is But a Few Days Away. Plan To Be Here On the Opening Day.
